 Quay Item 6 11-12	N Henderson	Mr Daniel Williams (7)	5-2	124	110	133
Scored comfortably at Plumpton (2m4f, soft) on second attempt under rules; outstayed by the winner, who is useful, over 3m at Doncaster since; may still have more to offer and holds major claims back down in trip.
 Beau Quali 6 11-5	C Williams	Toby McCain-Mitchell (5)	5-2	119	100	131
Chase winner for previous yard; 0-13 over hurdles but is in form for new stable, having finished second in handicaps on last two outings, latest over C&D (good to soft) behind easy winner; fighting chance at the weights.
 Drumlee Orders 6 11-5t	K Lee	David Bass	33-1	-	-	-
Beaten long way over 2m5f at Ludlow, failing to build on his Irish point effort; chance partly depends on how well he responds to fitting of tongue-tie.
 Piping Rock 5 11-5w	E Lavelle	Gavin Sheehan	3-1	119	122	123
Weakened into third at Plumpton (2m4f) last time but still has consistent overall form figures, which now read 32333, and subsequent physical tweak (wind surgery) may enable him to finish better; solid chance.
 Shuil Rocco 5 11-5	M Bowen	Mr James Murray (7)	50-1	-	11	-
Holds poor claims on his two rules efforts and is likely one for handicaps later on.
 Vanderflier 6 11-5p	J & A J O'Neill	Jonjo O'Neill Jr	16-1	-	80	107
Irish point winner who was fifth on first two starts under rules, weakening over 2m7f at Chepstow on second occasion; had wind surgery before his fourth in these cheekpieces in a maiden at Warwick (2m3f, good) yesterday, which he needs to improve on.
 Yellow Warning 5 11-5	Sheila Lewis	Sean Houlihan	33-1	-	23	66
Not a particularly solid option, with his two completions comprising an Irish point success and heavy defeat in latest hurdles attempt.
 Treasure Planet 4 11-2	P Nicholls	Harry Cobden	3-1	116	95	117
Juvenile hurdler whose reasonably consistent form features an autumn win; keeping-on third upped to 2m3f in Taunton handicap (good) most recently; may show progress kept to this distance; respected.
 The Last Promise 6 10-12	H Oliver	Lee Edwards	50-1	-	-	-
Trailed home last of seven in Uttoxeter bumper for an inauspicious debut; needs a huge step forward.
 Equity Release 4 10-9	J & R Flint	Charlie Price	100-1	-	-	-
Far from solid on form; beaten long way at Chepstow (2m7f) on stable/hurdles debut most recently.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT The 4yo TREASURE PLANET may be capable of progress at this sort of distance and gets the percentage call in a tight-looking clash between the main form contenders. This first run since wind surgery is possibly the time to catch Piping Rock, who is second choice. Quay Item holds a good chance back down in trip, while Beau Quali is one to consider despite appearing more exposed.[Steve Boow]

	Manothepeople 11 12-0p	F O'Brien	Jack Hogan	13-2	130	125	137
Chasing career highlights include a C&D novice handicap and the same Cheltenham April 3m2f event two years running, all on good; 3lb below his last winning mark, but has a listless recent return run to forgive.
	Broomfields Cave 9 11-7p	N Mulholland	Bradley Harris (3)	13-8	123	116	136
Chasing record reads 3-6 following this month's 5l defeat of Loup De Maulde at Wincanton (3m1f, good; RPR 128), and although taking him to a new career-high mark the 4lb rise for that doesn't look an overreaction; no track or going issues, and case looks solid once more.
	Charles Ritz 10 11-6	T George	Ciaran Gethings	6-1	122	128	134
Last month's near-5l third at Kempton was his most convincing effort to date both over 3m and on good ground, but also took his record in handicaps off marks in the 120s to 0-8; still needs to find a bit more.
	Loup De Maulde 9 11-2tp	R Llewellyn	Toby McCain-Mitchell (5)	7-2	118	112	140
Not an unlucky loser, but may have run Broomfields Cave closer at Wincanton latest without pecking two out (3m1f, good); respected now back on track, though notably remains winless around a galloping track.
	Inflexible 8 11-0p	D Killahena & G McPherson	David Bass	7-2	116	127	140
Right back to form on last month's second start after 16 months out, just holding on in a Utttoxeter Class 4 (3m, good to soft); form of that win remains untested, but 4lb rise probably fair; effective on good also.
	Amateur 13 10-10p	J & R Flint	Sean Houlihan	25-1	112	121	136
Last four victories all gained over Ffos Las's 3m4f trip in April or May (good, good to soft); present attainment level is conjectural, having survived just two fences on his recent first outing since last May.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT The rise to a new career-high mark demands more of BROOMFIELDS CAVE but the form of his Wincanton dismissal of Loup De Maulde last time could easily have merited a greater hike than that meted out. Fellow last-time scorer Inflexible has a 4lb rise of his own to defy and is yet to strike above 0-115 company, but is preferred only marginally less. [Jeremy Grayson]

	Caspada 5 11-4	D McCain	William Maggs (3)	50-1	-	69	89
Ran okay when fourth of six on debut in bumper at Sedgefield in December but well beaten on his three runs since, the last two being over hurdles.
	Go Try 7 11-4	R Llewellyn	Liam Harrison	100-1	-	-	52
Half-brother to the useful Perfect Myth but he was tailed off at 100-1 on last month's belated debut at Wincanton (1m7f, good).
	Jubertilee 9 11-4h	D Summersby	Rian Corcoran (5)	10-1	-	-	-
6-21 in points and in good heart in that sphere of late; makes rules debut at age of nine but in a race lacking depth; could have a part to play.
	My Boy Aaron 6 11-4	R Stephens	Sean Houlihan	5-2	110	93	116
0-8 but placed over hurdles on his last three starts (2m, soft/good to soft) and that puts him high on the list in a race that might not take much winning; ran well on good ground in a bumper.
	Polemon 7 11-4tp	T Vaughan	Mr Edward Vaughan (7)	4-1	110	38	110
Three-time Flat winner who has also shown promise over hurdles; well beaten in this code last May and bought out of Denis Hogan's yard for £17,000 later that month; absent since but he's one of the likelier winners if at the top of his game on this comeback and stable debut; watch the betting.
	Trapper John 5 11-4	H Eustace	Jack Quinlan	5-1	-	79	110
Fairly encouraging fifth of 18 on hurdle debut at Wincanton (1m7f, soft) in December; a lesser run followed at Lingfield (2m, soft) but he's since gone close on the Flat at Kempton (2m, AW), in February; also effective on good ground on the Flat; he's one to consider.
	Good Girl Rachel 6 10-11	B Clarke	Tom Bellamy	25-1	-	40	94
Displayed ability when third in a point in January but tailed off subsequently on her first two runs over hurdles.
	Lakeview Lass 5 10-11	J Scott	Lorcan Williams	66-1	-	-	80
Related to winners but tailed off in both bumpers and same outcome when 125-1 for recent hurdle debut over C&D (good to soft).
	Queens Up 5 10-11	R Ford	Brendan Powell	50-1	-	-	-
Third in a point (3m, yielding to soft) in December on her second start; however, pulled up at 33-1 on hurdle debut at Newton Abbot (2m5f, good) ten days ago and needs to be an entirely different proposition today.
	Both Of Us 4 10-10t	K Lee	David Bass	13-2	-	51	104
Progressive on the Flat last year; tailed off on hurdle debut at Stratford last month before 32l third over this C&D (good to soft) three weeks ago, behind two useful sorts; this race should take a lot less winning.
	Grand Harbour 4 10-10	J Ponting	James Best	66-1	-	21	77
Modest maiden on the Flat and soundly beaten at 100-1 on last month's hurdle debut at Taunton (2m, good); improvement is needed.
	Mariole 4 10-10	N Henderson	Sam Twiston-Davies	4-1	-	80	109
Soundly beaten sixth of 12 at Huntingdon (2m, good) last month and he needs a bigger performance today; however, he showed some promise when third of eight on hurdle debut at Taunton (2m3f, heavy), when fading late on, and he could come good for his top yard at some point.
	Whatcombe 4 10-10	F Bramley	Richie McLernon	10-1	-	88	99
After showing promise he became disappointing during his short Flat career, and he was beaten 19l when fourth of six on his recent hurdle debut at Fakenham (2m, good); however, that was his first run since last November and it's possible he'll get closer to the target today.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT Three-time Flat winner BOTH OF US was behind two useful opponents when a 32l third over C&D three weeks ago and faces nothing of their ilk this time. He gets the nod ahead of My Boy Aaron, who has been running consistently well in defeat. Trapper John is third choice on the back of a near-miss on the AW.[Ben Hutton]

	Aimeric 7 11-4	J Candlish	Luke Scott (3)	5-2	-	-	-
Really smart Flat campaigner although he was susceptible to the odd aberration; in fine form as recently as last April, when just denied in valuable 1m6f Musselburgh handicap, but last two starts for Karl Burke showed the other side of his coin and left that yard for 21,000gns in November; still rates a fascinating hurdles debutant with the market potentially offering significant clues.
	Cheap Sandwiches 5 11-4	C Gordon	Sam Twiston-Davies	5-1	-	-	-
Displayed ability on bumper debut at Warwick (2m, good to soft) in December but disappointed in two subsequent starts; has winning hurdlers in the family so may get back on track switched to this sphere.
	Five Valleys 5 11-4	T George	Jack Hogan	33-1	-	-	-
No immediate promise when 22-1 and weakening quickly to beat one home in October Worcester bumper; hurdles debut.
	Just Call Me Buzz 5 11-4	B Clarke	Tom Bellamy	10-1	-	-	-
9-1 and outpaced when fifth of seven on bumper debut at Exeter (good) last month; pedigree suggests he'll do better over jumps but probably over further.
	Louis Des Landes 5 11-4	J Tizzard	Brendan Powell	12-1	-	57	99
Hint of ability on February's hurdling debut and he didn't go unbacked before a bad mistake and unseating early at Wincanton 12 days ago; market might help.
	Scrumpyjack 5 11-4w	C Longsdon	Lorcan Williams	50-1	-	20	59
Can't be recommended on his outings in a bumper or maiden and novice; has twice been handy before weakening so wind surgery might have helped.
	Teletime 5 11-4	N Mulholland	Richie McLernon	20-1	-	-	-
Dam was prolific across both codes and disciplines; looked to need the experience when midfield on bumper debut at Taunton (good to soft) in February; may do better on this first go over hurdles.
	Footage Detectives 5 10-11	H Oliver	Lee Edwards	66-1	-	65	97
Big defeats in a bumper and two novices; probably more one for handicaps.
	Miss Kingston 5 10-11	A Ralph	Ciaran Gethings	3-1	109	86	116
Inconsistent at big prices in four Irish hurdling starts but her fourth of 12 at Fairyhouse (2m4f, soft) in January sets the standard; secured for £22,000 a fortnight later; also ran creditably on better ground in November and she's much respected on this stable debut.
	Nowherenearmilan 5 10-11	M Comley	David Bass	16-1	-	86	100
Not disgraced on second bumper start and she plugged on for a very modest third at Stratford (good; first-time cheekpieces) on hurdling debut last month; again outpaced when fifth over C&D (also 2m, good to soft) a fortnight ago; cheekpieces removed for this third go over hurdles and while not dismissed she'll likely do better up in trip once handicapping.
	Calibos 4 10-10tp	Jo Davis	NON-RUNNER	-	86	110
Win on the Flat came at 1m2f (good to firm) in first-time blinkers; 125-1 but wasn't disgraced when fourth at Huntingdon (2m, good to soft) in this headgear combination on stable/hurdling debut at the start of last month; might build on that.
	Maestrow 4 10-10	B Pauling	Beau Morgan (5)	50-1	-	-	-
Started life in a Listed bumper but that run and the two that followed it, including over hurdles three weeks ago, suggest he'll be more at home in modest handicaps.
	One Island 4 10-10t	P Nicholls	Harry Cobden	4-1	-	80	101
Won a Flat race for newcomers at Le Mans (1m3f, good to soft) in May on his only start in France; dropped out tamely to be well beaten on hurdling debut at Fontwell (2m1f, good to soft; 11-4) in November and it was a weakening third at Wincanton (1m7f, soft) in January; the pair who finished in front of him that day are decent sorts, however, and maybe the tongue-tie will help; considered.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT A race that revolves around Aimeric (second choice), who would dispatch this lot with the minimum of fuss if transferring his smart Flat form to this sphere. The betting may suggest whether that's expected or not so in the circumstances the suggestion is ONE ISLAND, who hasn't been finishing his races off but the tongue-tie might help in that regard and the pair who beat him last time are useful sorts. Miss Kingston also commands plenty of respect.[Richard Russell]

	Torneo 6 12-0	J Snowden	Gavin Sheehan	Evs	125	125	131
Jumping let him down in what was effectively a 0-150 handicap here latest (2m3f, good to soft); his string of low-130s RPRs before that read well in tonight's company, however, and although still 9lb above any mark defied he did land a C&D novice handicap last year on one other visit.
	Parramount 10 11-5tp	C Longsdon	Lilly Pinchin	5-1	116	102	125
Chance on November's Doncaster hurdles second, less so on all which has followed; unexposed in this sphere, with one start over fences compared to the other trio's 41 combined, but none too convincing on that belated chase debut at Wetherby latest (1m7f, good), jumping left and weakening.
	Hypotenus 7 11-3w t	N Mulholland	Richie McLernon	11-4	114	125	130
Able to dominate when cashing in a career-low mark at Taunton in January (2m, good), his sole win in 14 chasing starts; hasn't gone on since, but back to within 2lb of that figure now and one previous wind operation provoked a small spike in form; chance on first start for new yard.
	Bonza Boy 9 10-11p	J Scott	Lorcan Williams	5-1	108	106	130
Sometime tendency to jump right hasn't been sufficient to deny him victory around here in the past, and he's never hit the deck in 22 career starts; issue is more that he's now 0-10 racing from official marks above the 104 he denied at Exeter in January (2m1f, good to soft).

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT Not the best race for the grade, with only the topweight rated under a stone within the ceiling, the three experienced chasers all above their last winning marks and Parramount not looking to the manner born belatedly switched to fences recently. TORNEO was at least compiling a string of career-best equalling RPRs before Class 2 company found him out here last time, and he's taken over Hypotenus, whom the stable switch and/or latest wind operation might help. Endured a sobering chase debut here in November (sole start on good) but firmly back on track on sole start since when finding only an even less exposed handicapper too good over C&D a fortnight ago (good to soft; pair 9l clear); cheekpieces added; retains plenty of upside.
	Wreckless Eric 6 12-0p	J & A J O'Neill	Jonjo O'Neill Jr	2-1	129	119	130
For two years in a row now he's followed a second in the Imperial Cup with a disappointing effort at Aintree, second-time cheekpieces presumably not to blame latest as they're retained here; record of 1F12 in handicaps of Class 3 or below, and ought not mind any dryout (2-4 on good).
	Inside Man 6 11-7	Mrs J Williams	Ciaran Gethings	6-1	122	98	131
Never able to get competitive returning from five months out in a big-field Sussex Champion Hurdle recently, but September's handicap debut win came off only 2lb lower than today's mark and he landed a good-ground C&D novice event exactly a year ago; could well get back on track.
	American Land 8 11-3t	J Tizzard	Brendan Powell	6-1	118	116	128
Taunton win this time last year was the first leg of an eventual hat-trick (2m1f-2m3f) all recorded on good or quicker surfaces, so drying forecast is all to the good; chance, assuming he's not goaded into making the same sorts of errors as on his recent return here.
	Razzle Dazzle Boy 6 11-0	T Vaughan	Lorcan Williams	5-1	115	122	130
C&D seconds either side of January's Leicester win (1m7f, heavy) speak well of his effectiveness around galloping tracks with at least some give underfoot; drying forecast worries more than latest 1lb rise.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT It's unwise to dismiss any of these, though Razzle Dazzle Boy may appreciate the projected drying forecast the least. Wreckless Eric hasn't especially enjoyed either visit to the Grand National meeting and may capitalise on an ease back in class, but a recent C&D second for THE KEMBLE BREWERY (nap) looked like that of one with plenty of remaining upside in handicaps, and the 2lb rise may not prove prohibitive. April 2025 C&D novice scorer Inside Man could yet revive. [Jeremy Grayson]

Rampant in sub-3m good-ground hurdle races and chases last summer, and has the beating of Yippee Ki Yay on a line through Macklin, whom he trounced at Exeter last time (3m, good); still fairly lightly raced over this sort of trip, and drying forecast rates a big plus.
	Pink Eyed Pedro 15 12-2t	D Brace	Mr James King	11-4	116	65	112
Splendid old-timer who has won both confined novice (2019) and grassroots (2025) incarnations of this race (each on good); always held by a match-fit and five-years younger rival on this month's seasonal return, albeit beaten just 2l; likely to be spot on for his title defence.
	Ideal Du Tabert 8 11-12tp ¹	Miss L Richardson	Mr Huw Edwards (3)	14-1	113	57	113
Successive 2025 point wins (3m, good to soft) were each gained in the day's fastest time; this season's form is a bit better than it first appears, considering some hikes in class and mostly tougher underfoot conditions, and he's not dismissed out of hand.
	Important Notice 8 11-12t	J Newman	Mr Joshua Newman	15-2	-	99	110
Remains the last horse to beat hunter chase star Barton Snow, albeit back in late 2024 on desperate ground; twice a Trebudannon open point winner (good to soft) since January's Hereford hunter chase exit which was not of his own making, but an unseat at Stratford last Sunday is harder to forgive.
	Poppa Poutine 10 11-12p	Miss A Willmott	Mr James Murray (7)	16-1	111	79	-
Hampered when unseating in an open point at neighbouring Howick last month, and generally a safe ride; both handicap chase wins (from 17 starts over fences) have come over Wincanton's 3m1f on ground softer than good, and the drying forecast isn't strictly ideal.
	Windance 11 11-12t	M Sweetland	Mr Jack Stenhouse (5)	33-1	105	76	98
Landed back-to-back Fontwell and Wincanton staying handicap chases three years ago (good to soft); blameless exit behind Stumps Or Slips latest (hampered) but capable of throwing in his own errors or jumping right; form of this year's completed efforts falls well short of the required.
	Yippee Ki Yay 8 11-12p	Mrs N Sheppard	Mr Ivor Herbert (7)	4-1	112	100	123
Track and going types come alike to this former Kelso and Exeter hunter chase winner (soft and good to soft); 11l behind a rival later drubbed by Stumps Or Slips on his most recent hunter chase start, but confidence levels topped up with an easy point win at Eyton-on-Severn (good to firm) since.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT It seems almost sacrilegious to oppose Welsh doyen Pink Eyed Pedro ahead of this bid for a third Dunraven Bowl, but if anything looks set to spoil the party, it's STUMPS OR SLIPS. He was an easy Exeter winner recently over a rival who'd previously beaten Yippee Ki Yay just as comfortably at the same venue, and he's still fairly unexposed at tonight's trip. Connections won't mind the drying forecast at all. An upturn in Ideal Du Tabert's fortunes wouldn't defy logic. [Jeremy Grayson]

Effectively a 0-135 mares' handicap she took in course record time at Kempton over Christmas (good); can throw in the odd poor effort and there's something to take on trust after she stopped early on latest start (made a noise) but she's in the mix if all is well with her.
	I Spy A Diva 9 11-11	K Bailey & M Nicholls	Tom Bellamy	6-1	117	109	123
Sole 3m success was gained off tonight's mark in autumn 2022 (good); just one further win since (2m5f) and mixed signals this term as to her present optimum trip, but unarguably weighted to strike again.
	Hard Dealt 6 11-8	H Daly	David Bass	4-1	114	112	122
Worcester novice scorer (2m4f, good) last May having gone close here previously; no further win but still upped 13lb since December, finding Kilworth almost 4l too good at Ascot (3m, good) on penultimate start; appears vulnerable to that mare and other rivals again here, as shown once more when fourth at Warwick on Thursday.
	Kilworth 6 11-3	E Lavelle	Harry Cobden	11-4	109	111	121
Her worst performance in Irish points had been recorded on soft, so perhaps February's Plumpton failure on similar ground ought not to have surprised; nicely progressive in staying handicaps otherwise with wins at Taunton and Ascot, though the 7lb rise since the latter asks a stiff question.
	Slim Marvel 8 10-12	Miss R Curtis	Toby McCain-Mitchell (5)	16-1	104	98	121
Just one win in 24, and Ffos Las near-miss on second outing for current handler likely owed something to the drop to 0-105 company (3m, heavy); limitations exposed again since and this is tougher still.
	Roaring Home 7 10-9	H Daly	Sam Twiston-Davies	12-1	101	101	124
Below par on two of her last three outings, including latest when returned to the sound surface of her one career success; hasn't shaped as if in need of this second crack at a stayers' trip (pulled up in the first).
	Love Me 6 10-6t	Jo Davis	Gavin Sheehan	9-1	98	100	124
Big-field Navan winner in autumn 2024 and best British efforts have similarly been recorded in handicap hurdles around galloping tracks; trip didn't beat her when upped to this C&D latest (good to soft), failing by just over 2l, and she's not wholly dismissed despite the hotter company.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT The Star Walking who smashed the track record at Kempton over Christmas may take some containing if turning out again today, but the one who made a noise early at Kelso last time rather less so. No chances have been taken with the new mark allocated to the in-form Kilworth, so the competitively weighted I SPY A DIVA might emerge as a more viable threat, albeit with her present optimum trip not being crystal clear.
