	C'Mon So 5 11-0	L Russell & M Scudamore	Derek Fox	33-1	-	65	71
Runner-up in an Irish point but it's been modest stuff under rules; readily opposed.
	Eustace Grenier 5 11-0	O Murphy	Jack Tudor	10-1	-	-	-
Shaped with promise in all three bumpers (soft/good) but Sean Bowen rides one of his stablemates.
	Jack Dempsey 6 11-0	I Duncan	Callum Bewley	200-1	-	78	99
Unseated quite early in his first two runs over hurdles but finished a remote ninth at Ayr when 150-1; the only positive is the return to a drier surface, as the ground was good when runner-up on bumper debut.
	Jet Noir 5 11-0	J Stephen	Sean Quinlan	66-1	-	80	101
Third in an Irish point; beaten 25l in a bumper and 31 in a maiden hurdle; passed over.
	Mr Maximilian 5 11-0	O Murphy	James Bowen	10-1	-	-	-
Never dangerous from off the pace when sixth in a Wetherby bumper (good to soft; 15-2); one of three runners for the yard.
	Misterdoc 4 10-13	D Skelton	Harry Skelton	4-9	125	105	116
Ran on well to win at Ludlow two months ago (soft) and three of the next four home have won since; sets the standard here by some way.
	Brewdog 4 10-6	R Mike Smith	Nathan Moscrop	200-1	-	-	-
125-1 when tailed off in a heavy-ground bumper at Ayr in January.
	Palavar 4 10-6	D Bourke	Danny McMenamin	20-1	-	-	-
Minor Flat form in six Irish starts for two different trainers; wouldn't be the obvious solution.
	Sears Crossing 4 10-6	O Murphy	Sean Bowen	3-1	-	-	-
No wins in six on the Flat for Jessica Harrington but showed a fair level of ability at up to 1m4f and joined this yard for 40,000gns; lacks jumping experience but raw ability is respected.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT This looks all about MISTERDOC who had subsequent winners behind him when doing it nicely at Ludlow two months ago. Olly Murphy has won two of the last three renewals of this race and the ex-Irish Flat maiden Sears Crossing would appear the pick of his three runners according to jockey arrangements.[Alistair Jones]

 Noble Birth 9 12-0t	C Ellam	Ryan Mania	33-1	125	32	124
3-24 over hurdles and 1-8 as a chaser; left Gavin Cromwell after finishing tailed off in a claiming hurdle in early March (tried blinkers); needs a revival and he's got a lot of weight.
 Fortunedefortunata 9 12-0p	P Morris	Jack Power (5)	20-1	125	96	132
Had smart form when with Gordon Elliott before losing his way and selling for £3,000; fell midrace on stable debut but, with the cheekpieces back on, he outran odds of 100-1 to finish a fairly close third at Haydock (3m4f, good); if as good again here then he could have some say.
 El Granjero 7 11-13p	C Boulton-Brooks	James Bowen	7-1	124	121	131
Dual hurdle winner who is 0-5 over fences but three times runner-up in this discipline and latest Warwick conqueror (3m5f, good to soft) was completing a hat-trick; likely to run well off an untouched mark.
 Brandt 8 11-6	C M Collins (IRE)	Jordan Gainford	10-1	117	33	128
Won a 3m4f handicap chase at Leopardstown in March of last year (yielding); this season hasn't gone so well but it wasn't too bad a run on his return to fences at Downpatrick last time (3m4f; yielding to soft) and unwise to put a line through him.
 Gringo D'Aubrelle 10 11-5p	G Elliott (IRE)	NON-RUNNER		116	110	125
Superior hurdle form is reflected in this lower chase mark; 0-8 in this discipline but was third over 3m4f at Leopardstown before pulling up in a Listed handicap at Navan; no surprise to see him run well as drying ground won't faze him.
 Busty Boy 9 11-5	D Bourke	Sean Bowen	5-1	116	128	133
Only 1-21 overall and clearly hard to win with, but he was runner-up in this 12 months ago and returns in form having been running well from 2m4f to 3m; in the mix.
 Fever Dream 8 11-2t	C Williams	Jack Tudor	100-30	113	110	130
If the ground is bordering on good then this 8yo could take some beating as he hosed up at Warwick last month (3m, good) on his second run after a break; the 8lb rise isn't the end of the world.
 Stratagem 10 11-2tp	M Bowen	Shane Fenelon (5)	7-1	113	117	134
Not as good as he was but has turned a corner following wind surgery and came home clear at Sedgefield (3m2f, good); that race fell apart in behind but he would probably have won anyway; raised 8lb but had become very well handicapped.
 Express Surprise 7 11-1t	C Boulton-Brooks	Ned Fox (3)	13-2	112	116	130
Only defeat in his last four races came in a good-quality 3m4f handicap at Windsor; jumped well and stayed on best at Chepstow last time (2m7f, soft) where the front two pulled well clear; raised 7lb but Ned Fox takes away 3lb out of that; respected.
 Breeze Of Wind 9 11-0tb ¹	W S Coltherd	Sean Quinlan	10-1	111	105	131
Pulled up two runs ago but solid efforts in defeat on either side of that and he's an assured stayer at this trip; the blinkers are new, as were the cheekpieces when third at Kelso last month.
 President Scottie 8 10-11p	N Richards	Danny McMenamin	9-1	108	126	134
Dual hurdle winner; has been expensive to follow over fences (0-9) and fair to say that others arrive here in better form.
 Upfordebate 7 10-10tp	P Neville	Charlie Maggs (3)	8-1	107	121	134
Went chasing last summer and he's won four times from 3m to 3m2f; now high in the ratings but still ran very well from the front at Carlisle last month (3m); unproven over this far and he does race up with the pace.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT If the ground is approaching good then Fever Dream (second choice) could take some beating as he looked well ahead of his mark at Warwick. Stablemates Express Surprise and El Granjero should put up bold shows but a chance is taken on Irish raider BRANDT. This season hasn't gone so well as the last, but the signs were more encouraging on his return to fences last time and he might be staying on stronger than a good few of his rivals.[Alistair Jones]

A winner the last time he contested a Class 3 handicap (on reappearance) and he was boxing on when beaten a little under 10l in a deep Uttoxeter handicap last time out (2m7f, soft); looks sure to stay this far and has the assistance of Sean Bowen.
	Jupiter Des Mottes 7 11-13	N Richards	Danny McMenamin	3-1	128	115	127
Low-mileage 7yo who was very well backed at Carlisle three weeks ago and ran out a ready winner (3m1f, good to soft); raised 6lb but appeals as a horse with more to offer.
	Go To War 8 11-11	N Henderson	James Bowen	8-1	126	103	128
After a brief stint over fences he got back on track in beating 14 rivals over 3m at Windsor (soft) under a positive ride; however, there was a further reminder of his inconsistency when he dropped away tamely at Haydock in February; what does heighten interest is a pretty good record when fresh.
	Whistle Stop Tour 8 11-9tp	L Russell & M Scudamore	Gregor Walkingshaw (10)	16-1	124	94	128
Well beaten/pulled up over fences on his last two starts but has each-way claims on the pick of his form over hurdles this season and Gregor Walkingshaw gets a tune out of him.
	Musique De Fee 7 11-5p	M Bowen	Shane Fenelon (5)	16-1	120	124	133
Ran no race over hurdles on final run for previous yard (tried a visor) and again looked a tricky ride back over fences on debut for this one; the return of cheekpieces may help but she's very risky at the minute.
	Sleedagh 6 11-3	L Russell & M Scudamore	Derek Fox	10-1	118	106	127
Last run too bad to be true but had been consistent in novice/maidens and the previous third at Musselburgh (3m, good to soft) came in a strong race; the potential is there to be competitive off this mark on handicap debut.
	Coumeenoole 7 11-2t	D Skelton	NON-RUNNER		117	117	127
Hadn't shown any benefit for joining Dan Skelton but he put that right when stepped back up in trip at Bangor (2m7f, good), where he won pretty much as he liked after attracting heavy support; 9lb higher this time in a better race but clearly a likely contender.
	Inferno Sacree 8 11-2	N Hawke	Murray Dodd (7)	10-1	117	126	131
Front-runner; having his 40th career start but a first over 3m when successful at Taunton and he followed up at Plumpton (3m1f; again good to soft); subsequent defeat, again under Murray Dodd, suggests others in here might be better treated.
	La Zoubida 6 11-2	N Richards	Sean Quinlan	9-1	117	117	128
Bumper and dual hurdles winner; penalties have been finding her out so handicaps now look a better option, but with her unraced beyond 2m5f there are some stamina doubts over this far.
	Highland Fashion 7 11-1p	I Duncan	Callum Bewley	12-1	116	114	129
His first run at about 3m when winning at Newcastle (good to soft) and then ran second at Warwick; latest Musselburgh run wasn't too shoddy given he was held up off the pace before staying on and he reportedly bled that day; had a break since and wouldn't be fully exposed as a stayer.
	Gwennie May Star 6 11-0	C Williams	Jack Tudor	9-1	115	113	127
Won races for Dan Skelton (2m1f/2m3f) and Olly Murphy (3m1f); now on a career-high mark, off which he was no match for the front two on stable debut at Bangor (2m7f).
	Wa Wa 11 10-9tp	O Murphy	Lewis Saunders (5)	12-1	110	105	129
Had lots of racing in Ireland before joining this yard last year; returned from a wind operation to win this 12 months ago off this very mark but he's an 11yo now and his last two runs, over fences and hurdles, weren't that encouraging.
	Jukebox Fury 7 10-6	N Henderson	Paul O'Brien	15-2	107	113	125
Last season he won 3m handicaps at Doncaster and Wetherby (both on good ground); his Ffos Las return was encouraging given the time he'd been absent and the soft conditions; in this scenario he's unexposed; considered.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT Handicap debutant SLEEDAGH and the unexposed Jupiter Des Mottes appeal most in an open race, though stablemates Go To War (dangerous after a break) and Jukebox Fury (encouraging reappearance) are others to consider. [Alistair Jones]

Went up 5lb for beating an exposed rival at Southwell (2m4f, soft; fine on good to soft) but he still ran well in a Class 3 at Newbury (2m6f) that didn't go entirely like clockwork; he could yet raise his bar higher; much respected.
	Solly Attwell 8 11-10b	C M Collins (IRE)	Jordan Gainford	10-1	114	104	122
Back-to-back wins over similar trips to this last September and on good or yielding ground that he's not had in his last four races; however, current wellbeing is an issue and so too the blinkers in which he was tailed off last time when first fitted.
	Bo Cruz 7 11-8	D McCain	NON-RUNNER		112	98	118
Much better chaser than hurdler, winning Class 5s at Catterick (3m1f) and Wetherby (3m; again on soft); wouldn't have beaten the winner in a Class 3 at Bangor even had he not clouted the last fence but that was still a fine run; 2lb rise is a bit mean given he was beaten 10l.

	Celestial Fashion 8 11-6	I Duncan	Callum Bewley	5-1	110	89	122
Shot up 16lb for her back-to-back wins (2m3f/2m5f) and, although a bad mistake was no help when last to finish at Carlisle, it could be that the handicapper has caught up with her.

Won an uncompetitive novice hurdle (2m6f, good) last May and the following month made a successful chase debut at Hexham (3m, good to soft); a long absence is perhaps a greater concern than the 4lb rise.
	Dixie Mafia 7 11-3t	C Williams	Jack Tudor	4-1	107	-	-
Six-race maiden over hurdles but ran respectably in his handicaps and this dual point winner could well do better over fences; has been off since January but one to consider, especially if at all strong in the betting.
	Rock On Jet 7 11-2h	G Bewley	Jonathon Bewley	10-1	106	45	117
Placed in a 3m Irish point but has never raced beyond about 2m over jumps; won over hurdles off a similar mark but his chase form lacks a bit of substance.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT The vote goes to HE KNOWS BETTER who still looks progressive over fences despite his defeat at Newbury. Dixie Mafia can have a say if taking well to fences.[Alistair Jones]

 Go Dante 10 12-1tp	O Murphy	Sean Bowen	7-1	131	100	133
Added to his excellent Sandown record when winning over 2m on soft in December; below par since, including a never-dangerous seventh when bidding for a third successive Imperial Cup back at Sandown, but this is the first time he's dropped to a Class 3 since winning at Cheltenham in December 2023; yard has won the last two runnings of this.
 Jack Hyde 8 11-12	F O'Brien	Tom Broughton (5)	9-2	128	124	131
Didn't feature in the Imperial Cup (Go Dante two places ahead of him) but back on track with his sights lowered when shading a tight finish in 2m Ludlow handicap (good) 25 days ago, taking his hurdles record to 4-12; has won over this trip; should remain very competitive off 6lb higher.
 Serious Operator 9 11-10t	L Russell & M Scudamore	Patrick Wadge	7-1	126	101	132
9yo who was tailed off at Kelso in February last time but that was the competitive Morebattle Hurdle over 2m; in good form over 2m4f prior to that, winning at Newcastle then second at Aintree (both good to soft); likely to be in the mix back up in trip.
 Nells Son 11 11-9w p	N Richards	Danny McMenamin	14-1	125	117	133
Better known as a chaser nowadays, but won twice over hurdles over four years ago; no real promise back hurdling six weeks ago but had wind surgery since and his stable is enjoying a cracking spring.
 Flying Fortune 7 11-6	M Bowen	Shane Fenelon (5)	11-1	122	102	133
Won four on the trot, all at around 2m4f (good/soft), in 2024; strong in the market and easily best run since returning from a long absence when fourth of seven over C&D (good) on Wednesday; needs to build on that turned out again quickly.
 The Dog Thief 6 11-0	T Ellis	Miss Gina Andrews	3-1	116	108	128
Won a 3m maiden point at Alnwick in December and promising start over hurdles, chasing home a subsequent Grade 2 winner from the Willie Mullins yard at Carlisle before seeing off two next-time-out winners when landing a maiden at Market Rasen (2m4f, good to soft); a very interesting handicap newcomer.
 King Jon Oliver 6 11-0	O Murphy	James Bowen	20-1	116	103	126
Clear promise in both hurdle starts for Lorna Fowler in Ireland prior to £54,000 sale; won a Fakenham maiden (2m4f, good to soft) on stable debut in January; creditable fourth of 11 at Uttoxeter (2m7f, good to soft) four weeks ago but weakened quickly and pulled up over C&D on Thursday.
 Bold Light 9 11-0	L Russell & M Scudamore	Alan Doyle (3)	12-1	116	110	135
Three wins last season; hasn't scaled the same heights this time round, although latest third of six at Newcastle was a bit more encouraging and he's well handicapped if staging a full-scale revival.
 Letterston Lily 6 11-3	M Bowen	Jack Tudor	7-2	119	109	129
Returned from a long absence to justify favouritism over C&D (good) on Thursday, coming from off the pace to hit the front when left clear at the last; will carry a 7lb penalty if turned out again quickly.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT Jack Hyde (second choice) rates a solid contender, while Go Dante is a potential class act in this grade, but promising 6yo THE DOG THIEF (nap) stands out as a progressive sort in this line-up. He couldn't go with He's On Fire on his Carlisle hurdle debut but that one has strolled home in a Grade 2 at Fairyhouse since and a subsequent defeat of two next-time-out scorers at Market Rasen suggests an opening mark of 116 could prove lenient. Letterston Lily won yesterday but now has a penalty.[Andrew Sheret]

Barely had to be nudged out to make a winning start to his handicap career at Exeter (2m2f, good) last Friday; the extra yardage here should help if anything and he'll take a bit of stopping under a 7lb penalty if showing up in a similar mood.
	Berkenshtaaap 6 11-11	O Murphy	Sean Bowen	5-1	102	92	102
No immediate improvement for a switch to handicap company when fourth of nine over 2m5f at Haydock (good to soft) seven weeks ago but it's still early days for a good stable with a very strong Perth record.

Hurdling debut fourth at Market Rasen in November 2024 but she failed to build on it in two subsequent runs for Dr Richard Newland and Jamie Insole; remains very lightly raced so she may still do better on her yard and handicap debut after 14 months off; also wears first-time cheekpieces.

Failed to improve on his maiden/novice form when 14.5l third of ten on Bangor handicap debut (2m3f, good) five weeks ago; still early days but he'll need to step up on that effort to go close here.
	The Coffey Boy 7 11-2	I Duncan	Callum Bewley	9-1	93	87	107
Low-mileage 7yo who made all and held on narrowly from Velvet Vulcan in conditional jockeys' race at Ayr (2m4f, soft) in February; not in the same form when fifth over 2m back at Ayr since but the return to 2m4f may see him in a better light.
	Valette 6 10-7	S Corbett	Nathan Moscrop	10-1	84	81	104
Modest form in three qualifying runs (trained in Ireland first two) but more realistic chance now handicapping for a yard which had a winner at Kelso on Monday.
	Velvet Vulcan 7 10-6ht	R Mike Smith	Toby Wynne	11-1	83	103	102
Dual Flat winner who showed best hurdles form when going very close at Ayr (2m4f, soft) in January/February, latterly to The Coffey Boy; does need to shrug off two lesser runs since, though.
	King Kodiak 7 10-6p	G Bewley	Jonathon Bewley	9-1	83	80	112
Improved third in 2m1f Carlisle novice (soft) in February; well treated on that form but hasn't managed to reproduce it in two subsequent handicaps, although he probably pressed for home too far out when third back at Carlisle (2m3f, good to soft) in refitted cheekpieces (retained) three weeks ago; remains one who could click from a lowly mark.
	Seeyainthesuninn 6 10-4	M D Hammond	Alice Stevens (3)	25-1	81	46	105
Modest maiden hurdler; has offered little in his three runs this term, weakening into a well-held seventh back from a break at Sedgefield 23 days ago.
	Nae Bother At A' 8 10-2	N Alexander	Bruce Lynn	33-1	79	-	88
Well beaten on 3m course handicap debut last June (final start for Gary Rutherford) and fared little better for new yard at Ayr (3m again) seven months later; hopes are pinned on a shorter trip helping after a further 101 days off.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT If MR JUKEBOX is in anything like the same form as when winning readily on last week's Exeter handicap debut he'll stand a good chance of defying a 7lb penalty. Although Berkenshtaaap (second choice) failed to improve when fourth on his handicap debut he remains with unexposed potential for a leading stable which enjoys lots of success at Perth. The shortlist is completed by King Kodiak, who did too much too soon last time. [Andrew Sheret]

	Not beaten far in a Galway bumper on debut; unconvincing hurdles form so far (including well held on completed start in handicaps) but Sean Bowen enlisted by an Irish yard no stranger to Perth success over the years, although not so much in recent times; betting interesting.
	De Deli Counter 5 11-7p	M Walford	Jamie Hamilton	7-2	98	97	104
	A change of headgear (cheekpieces for visor) saw him land a first success at Market Rasen (2m4f, good) 19 days ago; this front-runner seems an uncomplicated type and should give it another good shot off 5lb higher.
	Gorvennec 7 11-3p ¹	N Alexander	Bruce Lynn	20-1	94	-	56
	Point winner; showed a bit in novice hurdles in November 2024 but tailed off in a novice hurdle and pulled up in a handicap chase in two outings this season over four months apart; fitted with first-time cheekpieces back hurdling; plenty to prove at present.
	Kap De Triomphe 6 11-0p	C Williams	Jack Tudor	7-2	91	78	104
	Irish bumper winner who got off the mark over hurdles at the ninth attempt in a handicap at Plumpton (2m4f, good to soft) last month; not far off that form when fourth on his Warwick chase debut (2m4f, good) ten days later; enters calculations back hurdling.
	Star Vantage 9 10-8tv ¹	R Menzies	Charlie Maggs (3)	10-1	85	105	110
	Only a respectable fourth of five at Sedgefield a fortnight ago, extending his losing run to 33; has a first-time visor added to his regular tongue-tie now.
	Dublinofficecallin 5 10-8	Ewan Whillans	Peter Kavanagh	16-1	85	69	101
	Beaten a long way in three qualifying runs over hurdles at up to 2m1f but did hint at promise on the first of two bumper starts and improvement wouldn't be a surprise now handicapping up in trip (bred for further).
	Knockeranna Rose 6 10-4	S Corbett	Conor Rabbitt (3)	12-1	81	74	108
	Has reached the frame in two of his three handicaps at around 2m4f this spring and being eased another 2lb can only help.
	Roi Du Roume 6 10-2	M Bowen	Shane Fenelon (5)	5-1	79	94	104
	Irish point winner in November; suffered heavy defeats in his first three hurdles but better signs after wind surgery when third of ten on handicap debut here (3m, good) on Wednesday, with the way he travelled suggesting this drop back in trip may help if anything.
	Defying Gravity 6 10-2t	A Hamilton	NON-RUNNER		79	88	99
	Ran pretty well at Newcastle (2m1f) last month and Perth (2m, good) yesterday in his two handicaps, following wind surgery and a layoff; much more is needed, though, from 8lb out of the handicap over this new trip.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT The suggestion is DE DELI COUNTER on the back of his Market Rasen success. Kap De Triomphe (second choice) is respected back hurdling, while Dublinofficecallin, who should be suited by the longer trip, and Humble Jumble are of interest now that they are handicapping. Tony Martin's Poet's Gale needs watching in the betting with Sean Bowen booked. [Andrew Sheret]

	Trainer	Jockey	SP	OR	TS	RPR
 Ar Ais Aris 5 11-3	L Russell & M Scudamore	Gregor Walkingshaw (10)	4-1	-	-	-
Bought for £60,000 after finishing second on Irish point debut in November (yielding ground) and that form looks good with the third finishing fourth in the recent Grade 2 at Aintree; respected.
 Cockle Bay Wharf 5 11-3	P Neville	Charlie Maggs (3)	33-1	-	-	-
13,000euros foal; out of a bumper/2m7f hurdle winner; stable 1-26 in bumpers recent seasons.
 Fiskardo 6 11-3 ^t	M Bowen	Shane Fenelon (5)	12-1	-	-	-
Placed in two good-ground bumpers in 2024; easy to pick holes in the form of both races and perhaps the stable second string here; tongue-tie added.
 Kill Vanhowe 5 11-3	A Martin (IRE)	Jordan Gainford	5-2	-	-	114
Did well in Irish points; runner-up in a 2m3f bumper at Cork on yielding ground but the winner was an 80-1 chance who hadn't shown much previously; this 5yo still rates a likely contender with improvement on the cards.
 Ksar D'Oudairies 6 11-3	M Bowen	James Bowen	7-1	-	-	-
Bought for £85,000 after winning a 3m Irish point on yielding in October 2024 and that form has some substance; interesting to see what the market makes of him after such a long absence, especially with the yard doubly represented.
 Rock On Ronnie 5 11-3	O Murphy	Sean Bowen	9-4	-	-	105
From off the pace he made a promising debut to be beaten 7.5l at Wetherby (soft) in December; second run has been a while coming but has to be of interest for last year's successful yard.
 Dolly Dior 5 10-10	P Neville	Alan Doyle (3)	66-1	-	-	99
40-1 and never seriously counted on good ground at Sedgefield earlier this month; others preferred.
 Effortless 4 10-9	R Mike Smith	Danny McMenamin	33-1	-	-	-
Beaten 4.5l when third in a small-field Irish point in February (heavy); new yard not renowned for winning bumpers but this 4yo evidently has some ability.
 Hackley Bay 4 10-9	R Mike Smith	Ryan Mania	50-1	-	-	-
Unraced dam out of unraced half-sister to prolific French 2m1f-2m5f hurdle/chase winner Master Flight; from a yard that's 0-34 in bumpers the last five seasons.
 Shane's Spirit 4 10-9	S Crawford (IRE)	Sean Quinlan	5-1	-	-	-
Half-brother to winners Jet Setting Johnny (2m4f chase) and Jet To Vegas (useful 2m/2m2f hurdle); Irish stable has bumper winners in Britain; market needs checking.
 Betterthanadream 4 10-2	S Carlin (IRE)	Mr S Connor (7)	100-1	-	-	87
Tailed off at Down Royal last month and at 50-1 not a lot was seemingly expected of her.

SPOTLIGHT VERDICT When runner-up in an Irish point AR AIS ARIS finished ahead of Merry Away who was fourth in the recent Grade 2 bumper at Aintree. Rock On Ronnie edges second preference over Kill Vanhowe who was beaten by an outsider at Cork. Ksar d'Oudairies could be the pick of Mickey Bowen's two runners, both of whom are returning from lengthy absences.[Alistair Jones]
